

THIS SUMMER-----

Dream Big - Read 24/7 = <http://mountainview.gov/library>

Nothing to read and the Library is closed for the evening?
Try reading online, on a smartphone or on a tablet.

What you'll need:

1. A Mountain View Library Card
2. A computer with Internet access at home, school or the Library
3. The website for the Library = mountainview.gov/library

OVERDRIVE: Click on the e-book link on the homepage to get started with Overdrive and other free e-book and audio book resources for all ages. Overdrive works with computers, smartphones and tablets. The link contains lots of information to tell you what to do.

TUMBLEBOOKS: (Read on a computer only. Ask a librarian how to read them on an iPad.)
Tumblebooks includes books in other languages as well as non-fiction and picture books.

- Go to the "Resources Online" link on the homepage.
- Scroll down to "Literature."
- Choose Tumblebooks.
- On the Tumblebooks Site choose "Readalongs."
- Put them in descending order by reading level by using the pull down menus. The books include AR levels.
- Choose a book to read.
- Use the arrows to move from page to page.
- Lots of people can read the same book at the same time.

BOOKFLIX: (Read on a computer only.)

- Stories from Weston Woods and Non-fiction books from Scholastic are paired for students in grades K-3
- Read along with audio or just read by yourself

Need a book to read at your AR Level? <http://www.arbookfind.com> can help. Use the advanced search to put in a range of levels and to choose the type of book you like.

If you like treasure hunting for knowledge, come to the Library July 2 – 30 and play LIBROLOGY.
